Bryan L. Rawson, Who Was Credit Man for Leggett & Co., Wholesale Grocers, Clears Himself from Accusation.

ALSO GETS SUBSTANTIAL VERDICT FOR DAMAGES.

Proved on Trial that Discrepancies in Books Were Not His Fault but Grew Out of Con- OUR BOX-CALF has all the marked spiracy Between Clerks.

Bryan L. Rawson, who for more than byo years has suffered under the acemployers, Francis H. Leggett & Co., has had his good name cleared of the ma and besides has a verdict against the big New York wholesale house for $25,000. This verdict was handed down by a jury in White Plains yesterday, For more than twenty-five years Mr. Rawson was credit man for Francis H. Leggett & Co. He was their most trusted employee. So highly was he appreciated hat he was to have been taken in as a member of the firm in the winter of 1901. Then came an inspection of the books and it was shown that credit man's books were short It was charged that Max Borschardt, another employee of the firm, was responsible for the shortage. was arrested and it was said that he made a statement which implicated old employee.

Mr. Rawson resigned his position at once. He had been drawing a salary of 14,500 a year, and so highly was he shought of by the wholesale trade that would have taken another and even better place had not the charge of theft been preferred against him. Warrant for His Arrest.

Knowing that he was innocent Mr Rawson went to his home at Mount Vernon and there bided his time, be leving that the truth would come out coner or later. Mr. Rawson was promiment in church work and in musical stroles. He organized the Mount Vernon Singing Society and was at a per-formance of "Judith" when detectives from New York arrived with a warrant for his arrest. He did not know that his old employers had taken the charge of theft against him to the Grand Jury

T. F. Whitmarsh, Vice-President of the for higher prices. Leggett Company, was asked to-day if the company would make an appeal and little confusing. It was believed that "You can say that we are going to fight the payment of the $25,000," answered Mr. Whitmarsh. "Of course we are going to fight. I can't tell you what plans will be followed out."

The movement in the tractions was a little confusing. It was believed that Brooklyn was being marked up to sell at the higher prices. The traders and the same feeling toward Metropolitan, but yot they advanced with the market.

The local cotton market opened firm to-day with prices unchanged to 2 points higher due to the news from Liverpool.
